CENTENNIAL EDITION

LOTUS: What changes have taken place in the physical plant during your administration and what changes do you foresee in the immediate future?

DR. FRAZIER: Almost exactly $2 million has been invested in the physical plant during my administration, with the current investment in the physical plant standing at $3.4 million. Specifically, several dramatic things have been done. The Ragland Tennis Courts, Belk Dining Hall, Fineh Library, and Ross Residenee Hall have been built. In addition to these projects, approximately $100,000 has been spent on the landscaping, which can be observed in the planting and the beautiful brick walks that we enjoy on eampus. We have spent approximately $.5 million on the renovation of Main Building. This has included the renovation of all bedrooms, the installation of four new baths, and the installation of an elevator. You would be interested to know, if you do not, that until 1967 the dining area was where the Main Parlor and the President's Office are now. The old eafeteria serving area was converted into what is now the Admissions Office, and the kitchen was eonverted into an infirmary. In addition, the area once a post offiee and sehool store has been converted into the Registrar's Office.

Besides these major projeets, we have air-eonditioned Pressly, the lighting on front campus has been installed, the fountain which had not operated for decades has been restored and made operational, and the dance studio has been enlarged to the extent that it now is funetional. There are many smaller items, such as the construction of the playing field and the fencing of the back campus, but I have enumerated the major improvements.

In the immediate future, we plan to construct a new music building and convert the old library and adjaeent space on the seeond floor of Main into a theater-drama workshop. We also hope to renovate the chapel and East Building, and air-condition Hermann and Finley. It is our plan that some of these projeets will be completed prior to August 1972 and that all of them would be completed prior to August of 1973.

LOTUS: In your opinion, has the eurriculum of Peace undergone any changes? What areas do you feel are the strongest? The weakest? What do you hope to do to strengthen the academie program?

DR. FRAZIER: Peace is somewhat limited in its possibilities for curricular revision because we must ever be alert to the requirements of those schools to which a majority of our graduates transfer. We have, nevertheless, done some things which have been noteworthy, and we have added several courses and made other desirable changes.

To begin with, graduation requirements were made more stringent several years ago and then we diseontinued Saturday elasses two years ago. Since that time, as you know, we have changed our calendar to eomplete the first semester before Christmas. Also, independent study and honors courses have been well-received and have met needs of individual students.

Numerous eourses have been added to the curriculum during the last few years. These inelude economics, marriage and family living, child psychology, personal development, ealculus, advanced languages, journalism, music theory, new physical education courses, and perhaps others which do not come to mind right away. In addition, typing requirements in the business department have been eompletely revised and a new method of teaching shorthand has resulted from the installation of the shorthand laboratory. Just this year, we initiated a transfer curriculum in the business area.

In the future, we will strive to do whatever is necessary to maintain the best academic program of any junior college in the state. I would expect that our music department will be strengthened appreciably with the advent of the new building, and the same is true of the drama department. I think it is noteworthy that for the first time this year we are offering drama credit for study abroad, and we plan to alternate this study-abroad course with a course in contemporary American drama which will require study in New York. We are presently considering a complete revision of the mathematics curriculum. In all of our changes, we hope that we can make the instruetional program more relevant to today's world, and we hope that every course will be developed on the basis of carefully formulated objectives.

LOTUS: What are your views of the image of today's "Peace Lady"? Do you feel that the image is being upheld today by the student at Peace as an individual and an integral part of a group?

DR. FRAZIER: I have never personally used the term "Peace Lady" even though I am aware of the fact that many people have. At one time, this term probably evoked the vision of a rather prim, proper and genteel young lady who was attending college to learn some of the nicer things of life. Obviously, as society has changed, so has the student at Peace College. Frankly, it makes me personally feel good to be told over and over that Peace students are the most attractive and best groomed college women in Raleigh. I realize that this has little to do with the character or academic qualifications of a student body, but I think it is still some cause for pride. In addition to being the most attractive and well-groomed group of college women, I feel that the Peace student remains extremely friendly, concerned, and compassionate. In my opinion, these are attributes that we should continue to encourage. I also hope that good manners and consideration for others will never go out of style at Peace. They are certainly present to a substantial degree in 1972.

LOTUS: What action has Peace taken to adhere to the changing times in regard to clothing and curfew hours?

DR. FRAZIER: Perhaps the best way to answer this question is simply to say that until last year, students were required to wear skirts or dresses on campus at all times, and that until two years ago, students were required to wear hats and gloves to church on Sunday. (And, incidentally, Sunday morning church attendance was required.)

In 1965-66—my first year at Peace—the curfew was 11:30 on Friday night for all college students; it was 11:30 on Saturday night for college freshmen and 12:00 midnight for college sophomores. Weekday curfew was 10:30 for all students. You can compare these curfews with the hours we have now.

There are a couple of other items which typify changes we have seen. When I came to Peace, all bedroom lights were turned out on week nights at 11:00 p.m. and all students were to be in bed.

LOTUS: What projects have Peace students been involved in which allow them to reach out to the community? Do you feel that their participation has been successful?

DR. FRAZIER: Through the Peace Student Christian Association, during the last two years, we have tried to provide a variety of opportunities for Peace students to provide volunteer service in various community agencies, especially those dealing with children. There had been no organized effort prior to that time, and no staff time had been allocated to help coordinate any such effort. All in all, I feel that Peace students have responded very positively to the needs and opportunities in the community. I think most of us recognize this service as a part of our Christian duty.

LOTUS: What is your opinion of the faculty-student relationship at Peace? What makes it that way?

DR. FRAZIER: I believe that the on-campus relationship between faculty and students is as close at Peace as you will find in any urban college. It seems to me that we have an unusually congenial, cooperative, and helpful relationship existing between most faculty members and students. We make every effort to employ faculty members who will relate and communicate well with students.

A lot of things can change
In 100 years–
Even buildings.
They have to grow,
Expand,
Reach out
And along with growing larger,
They have to alter
Their characters a little;
And so . . . .
A library becomes more than a Study Room;
A dining hall becomes more than a Place to eat;
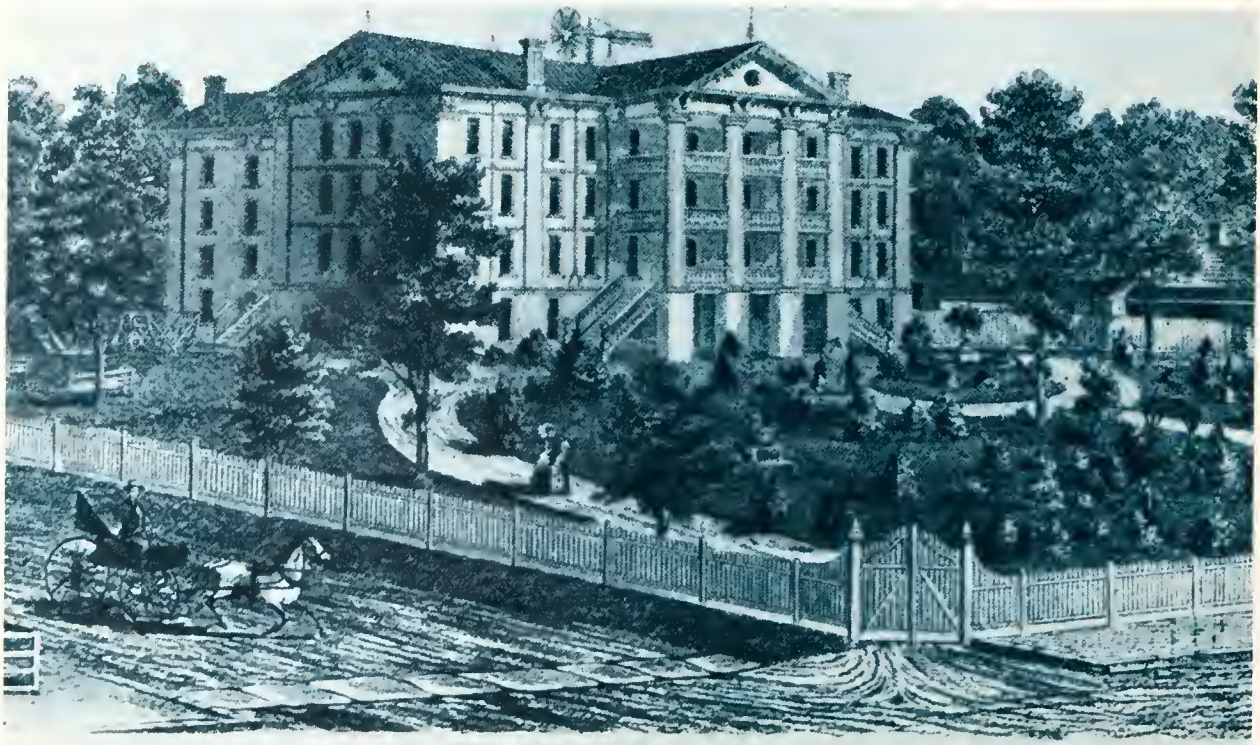
A gymnasium is no longer
Just a court with basketball goals.
Gradually
The appearance of the place
Is changed.
100 years is time enough for
A great many new things. . . .



PEACE INSTITUTE.

From 8:15 a.m. on Monday to 5:05 p.m. on Friday–
From gallons of water to volleyball nets–
From Buenos Dias to Bonjour–
From Napolean Bonaparte to George Washington– From listening to a symphony by Beethoven to playing a concerto by Chopin– From writing "words" in shorthand to typing legible letters–
From cooking biscuits to making a suit–
From Freud to Skinner–
From a Bunsen burner to a disection of pigs–
From sets and subsets to formulas and limits–
From reading about Rembrandt to ceramics and oils–
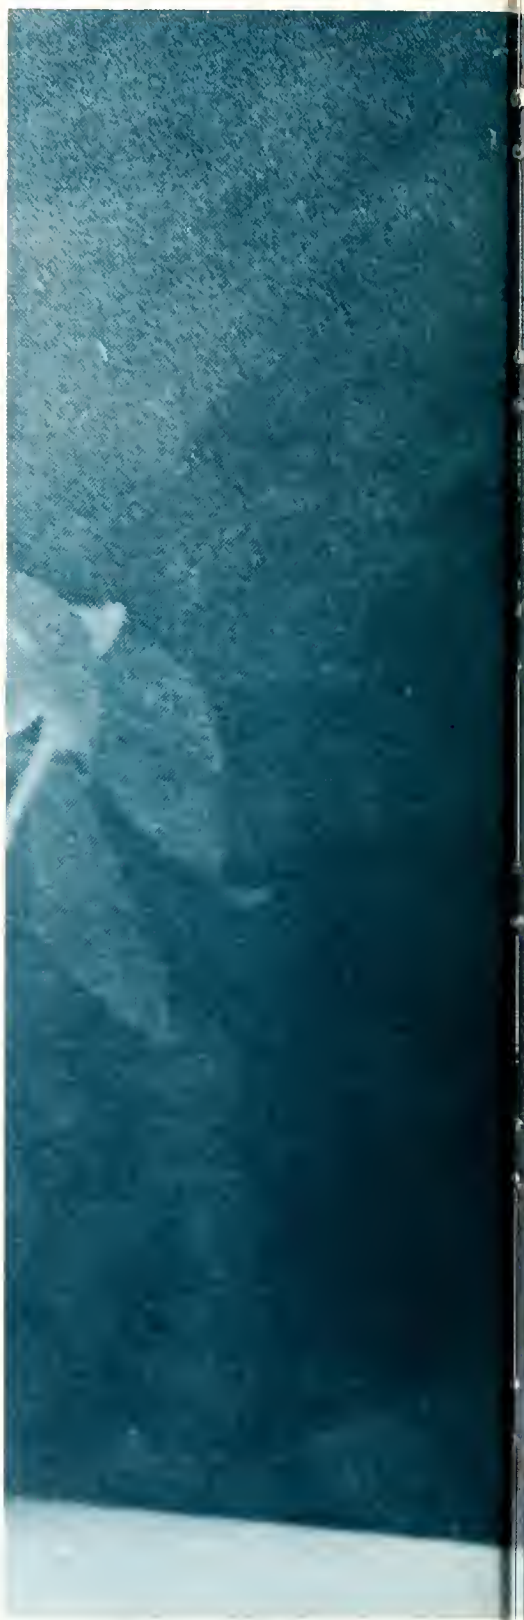
From politics and laws to customs and culture–
From Genesis to Revelations–

We listen–
We read–
We talk–
We learn.



Our student body has a "syndrome" . . . .
Only found in our individuals.
These characteristics are not genetically transmitted
But have been found to be "contagious".
This "syndrome" appears when one Individual is crossed with another . . . .
And thus learns to relate in a dynamic group.
Remember . . . .
Our individual at Peace never forgets or discards
Her individuality,
For she can maintain her identity while pouring her own vivacious nature into the vitality of the group.
A Peace girl will never have to walk alone . . . .
She will walk with another "hand in hand" . . . .
Thus her depressions,
her failures,
her victories,
her confessions,
her contemplations,
her ideals,
her impulses,
her frustrations,
her hesitations,
and her expressions,
Are shared by others who care.

Stately white columns uphold her as she upholds her ideals. White dresses, though they alternate with casual pants outfits, symbolize purity of purpose at Peace. Candles illuminating the faces and souls of young women evolving, Halloween booths overflowing with the spirit of involvement, class competition uniting two energetic groups in one joint effort, Christmas carols bringing good cheer into the hearts and minds of neighbors, the traditional May Day Celebration presenting the queen and her court—all these activities reflect efforts of girls who see that there are some inherited ideas worth saving and passing down.

Old ideas intermingle with the new as girls move from campus to community. The Peace spirit prevails—in jeans or in white dresses, in Raleigh or in Chapel Hill; the girls exemplify the image engendered in their minds by Peace intellectual and social environment. Life at Peace College is, in its own right, a tradition to be cherished.

Whether

At Halifax Court you experience the awkward moments of reaching out to a child and getting to know him, Putting forth the extra effort it takes to make a child smile . . . .

Or

At Hilltop Home you experience the fight to gain but an inch of ground only to see it lost again. . . .
the agony.
The time it takes to learn patience.

Or

At the Barbee School you experience the day when a child runs to you and cries. . . .
the tears.
A hand reaching out for yours. . . .
the sunburst smiles.

It is here that you as a Peace girl can find yourself and the beauty of a child's gift of love.

Change–
changing times,
seasons,
people,
attitudes. . . .
The change
from one school year to the next.
Adapting to the change. . . .
meeting the challenge of new methods, ideas–
discarding the old, worn ideas of past generations.
Inventing new,
different ways–
ways of thinking,
of doing,
of being,
Interrelating with students,
modifying ways of expression, transforming present patterns of thinking
into future plans of doing,
of living.
Changing thoughts– taking different shapes and forms in the mind
Creating new situations,
modifying old ones, fluctuating between decisions and indecisions, turning thoughts over
in the mind,
looking at each other in a new light,
realizing the change.

CAMPUS LIFE

ORIENTATION

I hated going to all the meetings. P.F.

Registration in the gym was a hassle. A.S.

I think that the Big Sis-Little Sis should be done by dorms. J.M.

The sophomores were certainly nice about moving us in. L.M.

I think they should do away with registration. M.O.

I loved the beanies! M.N.

Give us some more free time to get to know each other. M.C.

I think the beanies should become a tradition. J.S.

Everything they told us could have been mailed in a letter instead of sitting through all those meetings. M.H.

Time was so close together that there wasn't time to think; confusion. J.C.

I thought that the Big Sister-Little Sister deal was a good way for everyone to get to know each other. B.P.

Efficient about moving in. The Big Sis-Little Sis was a good thing. Big Sisters were someone the Freshmen could turn to when we were lost. B.W.

It is better than having to stand in drop-add lines that are a mile long as they are at Carolina. C.N.

They keep you so busy you forget about getting homesick. M.A.B.

Ridiculous! Meetings! Big Sis-Little Sis was a good thing. The Big Sisters helped you meet more people. D. P.

I thought that the majority of the sophomores were very helpful in helping the freshmen move in! The first day of school things were pretty well organized. N.P.

For some people the Big Sis-Little Sis activities were good, but for some it was a flop. The sophomores on our hall helped us more. P.G.

Orientation scared me to death. E.C.

What meetings? P.F.

I cried all registration. M.O.

Registration was so confusing. V.P.

It scared me, all that rush, rush, rush. P.B.

I liked the sophomores helping us move in. B.G.

I never saw my Big Sister! D.W.

I don't have any complaints. B.S.

MISS PEACE

STEPHANIE FOUNTAIN

Mrs. White told me the summer of my senior year in high school that Stephanie Fountain would be my suitemate. She also said that she just "knew" we would end up being the best of friends because we were so much alike (crazy)!

Well, after living with Stephanie for almost two years, I have found it impossible to keep up with her. That girl does not stop! And Peace College is why.

She's the epitome of a Peace College girl. I do not know if anyone else has ever thought about the things Stephanie has done for us. Bringing the freshmen and sophomores together as one is a difficult task, but we have one student body instead of two-thanks to Stephanie. She prides herself in unity and tranquility-that which perfectly describes our student body.

Always smiling and always on the go (I should know) Stephanie Fountain has worked earnestly and overtime for the benefit of her peers. And I can't think of a person who has more friends.

That's a real "Miss Peace!"

DEDICATION

Mrs. Joyce White

In every school, there has to be someone special. Dedication is what our "someone special" stands for. Her dedication to Peace students, her willingness to listen to problems and aspirations, and her support of students and their projects make her the unanimous choice for the dedication of the 1972 Lotus. We appreciate her because she's always there to write recommendations to senior institutions and to work closely with the administration and the students. As Dean of Women, she works for changes when she feels them necessary. She is not only active in her work here at Peace, but she is also active in community and state civic affairs. Yes, she always shows a readiness to understand the students' point of view, and she strives to make Peace a place where students are comfortable. For the above reasons, and many more, we dedicate the 1972 Lotus to Mrs. Joyce White.

I John 3.18-18 -- Cyndi Bailey
"The Wedding Song" sung by Elisabeth Gambill

I am not writing as one leaving a last will and testament, nor as one who firmly expects these sorry words to seal conclusively the span of time occupied at Peace College by the Class of 1972. That would be not only arrogant, but presumptous. It would be a violation of the spirit of learning, indeed, of the dynamic of the Christian faith, to suggest that this book and what it represents seals the vigor and life of the women to whom it pertains. To be sure, it will serve as a marker in time. And historians one hundred years from now may search its pages for insight into style of life and aspiration. But I could not teach or preach at Peace College if faith and hope for the women who have graced my life for seven years were to be confined within her walls or within the rigid limits of this book which will become dusty and vague.

To the Class of 1972 and to all who I have known in what has seemed a breathtakingly brief time: I hope that the years here have led you gently, but ever so persuasively, to the understanding that love is exciting, courageous and magnificent and that it, alone, may relieve the world of smallness, bigotry and hatred. I hope that the intellectual pursuits here have enabled you to become understanding realists, anxious not only to provide for yourselves but for your brothers an enriching life in traditional and innovative ways. I hope that your energy and vision may know health and prosperity. But whether this prove true of not, you have the understanding and the faith to see beyond it. And with that faith, no institution, however esteemed, no book, however gracious, no words, however eloquent, need be your memorial. Women for five years before you have not distorted or embittered the heart anxious to teach and to love. Nor have you. I take more pride than you might ever know in getting off the pedestal and telling you that the years I have known you have been enhancing and glorious. If I am fortunate enough to know the feel of earth at the bottom of the foot fifty years from now, I will know you and what you have meant to the world.
